Junior Class Holds Elections For Next Term

Wolf, King, Guthertz Compete For Presidential Post

The Low Junior class will hold an election for officers Monday, November 27 in the Student Body office. At a nomination meeting held Friday, November 17 in the Little Theater the following were nominated:

President, Bob Wolf, Jim King, Sylvia Guthertz; vice - president, Muriel Hart, Ernestine Cuneo, Ellen Reed Holly, Jean Deckman; secretary, Louise Valente, Gladys Thompson, Gladys Hurning; treasurer, Olga Perkins, Esther Riecks, Leo Coulson.

This election of officers usually takes place in the latter part of the spring term. Because of lack of cooperation it could not be held before. Former president, Jack Fisher said, "I want to thank those of you who did aid in making our sophomore year a success. We have quite a bit of money in the treasury and there is no reason for the junior year to be a flop."

All Low Juniors are urged to vote for their candidate.

Kleinecke Memorial Fund Established

Money contributed by the faculty and friends of Mary L. Kleinecke to the M. L. Kleinecke Memorial Loan Fund is especially for graduating seniors. Students who have to travel in order to find out about a teaching position and have not the money can secure the necessary amount from this fund.

Last May two students obtained very good jobs after using this fund. Organizations and clubs on the campus who wish to contribute to the loan, may give the money to the comptroller. Any amount, no matter how small, will be appreciated.

No interest is charged the recipient of the loan. However, when repaying it he may contribute more than borrowed.

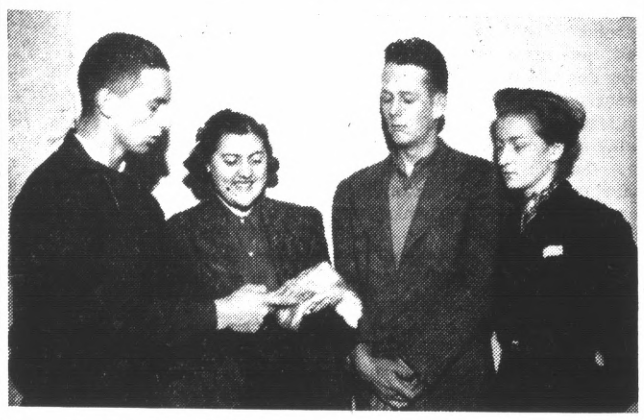

NOTICE!

All seniors who have not had their picture taken or who have not yet filled out the record blanks for the Franciscan are asked to report immediately to Dena Witte, Margaret Sullivan, Ernie Miguel, or in the Franciscan Office, Annex A6a.

All club presidents whose group has not had their pictures taken are requested to see Ernie Miguel and have picture scheduled. Be prepared to give the Editor the name of the group, the number of members, and the place and time desired for the picture.

Presidents should notify their groups that there will be a charge of ten cents for inclusion in the group pictures. No groups of over forty people will be taken. Such clubs with large memberships shall either be taken in two pictures or the officers only will be taken.

Campus Site Purchased

State has now officially received the title to the new campus site.

In a deal completed last week, $300,000 was paid for the 56-acre site and the title was transferred from the Spring Valley company to State.

Tom Porge, assistant in the State Division of Architecture; Carl Berg, estimator, and W. H. Rockingham, sanitary engineer, met with James Peck, project engineer for the WPA and made arrangements for all ground construction, playfields and storm sewers.

As soon as these plans are approved by the State and Federal governments in Sacramento and Washington, D. C., 1000 men will be put to work on the new campus.

Chaser Sell Out Second Day Of Sale

With a complete sell-out yesterday of the second issue of the Chaser, News Guild campus humor magazine, the staff is already at work on the first anniversary edition which will come out in December, according to James F. Martin, editor.

Dr. John Gutmann's class in poster making and lettering is working on the cover. Artists are busy at work on new ideas for cartoons, while the photographer is planning to take pictures of all social functions up to the first of the month.

Activities Cards Must Be Checked Before Dec. 16

Prior to December 16 all students are to have checked their activities record in Dean Mary A. Ward's office. These cards were first filled out by students when entering as freshmen or transfers. They are supposed to be kept up to date, each year being filled out.

Dean Ward's office will be open every day from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. for this purpose.

Absence Cards Necessary For Holiday Workers

Every year men and women leave classes early in December to work through the Xmas holidays. For this reason, students are to understand that they are not excused from any class work carried on during their absence. Students leaving early do so on their own responsibility.

The members of the faculty urge those who intend leaving school prior to December 16 to give careful consideration to the loss of school work before accepting the jobs for an early date.

Those who find it necessary to leave before December 16 must first secure a Leave of Absence Card from the Registrar's office. After receiving the signatures of the Dean of Men or the Dean of Women, the student is to get his instructors to sign the same card. This is an indication that he has received instructions as to the work which will be carried on from the time he is leaving until the end of the term.

When the card is all filled out it is to be returned to the Office of the Registrar.

Russian Class Convenes For First Meeting

Vladimir Tychinin Teaches Extension Division Course

Sponsored by the Extension division, Russian I was officially made part of the college program when the first class was held in Room 207 last Thursday evening.

The course has been divided into two sections, beginning and intermediate, in order that it may serve as both an introduction to Russian for the new student and a review of fundamentals for those already familiar with the language. The first few meetings of the class are open to visitors, and all interested are invited to attend. The class meets on Tuesday and Thursday evenings at 7:30.

According to Mr. Vladimir Tychinin, instructor, the new Russian course will serve as an introduction to the culture of the Russian people as well as to their language. Mr. Tychinin was formerly associated with the University of Kazan, Russia. He is the author of "Three Epics of Russian Literature," a commentary on pre-revolutionary and Soviet literature.

The fee for Russian, which gives two units of credit, will be ten dollars. For students regularly enrolled in the college this course must be included on the study list and must be approved by the counselors.

Bib N' Tucker Holds Fashion Show Dec. 7

The Bib 'N' Tucker Fashion Revue will be held in Frederic Burk auditorium, Thursday night, December 7.

"This Revue will be held at night as was last term's show, but instead of having bridge playing we will present a revue of the clothes worn in the Gay '90's. Following this the modern styles will be shown. The styles of today and the styles of yesterday are now so much alike that it should be of great interest trying to compare the two," said Elvira Huenergardt, president of Bib 'N' Tucker, today.

The Be-Alta Dress Shop will be the sponsor of the show. Besides supplying the latest in clothes they have promised a commentator.

Peggy Clifford is in charge of the selection of the models. Betty Zehnder is ticket salesman, and will sell tickets at the table outside the co-op door. Tickets can be purchased by outsiders as well as Staters. Cleo Prineas will handle the publicity.

Men as well as women are invited to attend the Revue.

Students who wish to announce their engagements can do so by seeing Bob Anderson.

You really aren't going to college unless you attend our Junior Prom this Saturday night, says Bob Anderson, so don't forget this coming Saturday is the night.—J. H.

The Scholarship Rally This Noon

The rally this noon is to plug the distribution of applications for the Sigma Alpha Eta scholarship. Out in the Rally bowl, Harry Barris, who with Bing Crosby and Al Rinker make up the Rhythm Boys of the '29 and early '30s, will work over the piano keys and do a little singing.

Rally chairman, Doug Kidd, has lined up Dean Valentine and Dr. Morse for brief talks.

Upperclass male students with a 1.5 grade point average may fill out applications, obtainable from Mr. Randolph in Dean Valentine's office. Students who will become upperclassmen at the beginning of the coming semester also have this privilege.

However, the time is short. Applications should be in today in order that the Dean's committee may commence action on them. The committee surveys the applications, choosing those with the highest grade averages. These semi-final applicants are then turned over to Sigma Alpha Eta for final selection, the choice being based upon general achievement in extra-curricular fields and financial need.

Attend the rally and ask for your scholarship application at Dean Valentine's office or from a Sigma Alpha Eta member. With interest shown in the scholarships already established on the campus, State will have a better opportunity to add still more scholarships for the benefit of the student body.

Dr. Arnesen Says Press Is Needed At State

Before the printing press became a functioning reality in Europe, Dr. Elias Arnesen stated today, it was a slow uphill endeavor to spread learning and important discoveries throughout the civilized world.

"State college," Dr. Arnesen continued, "is at the beginning of its renaissance when it too needs to disseminate to the civilized state of California and much adjacent territory, the fact of its existence, first of all; secondly, that it is playing an important role in educational leadership in the West."

The press will help publicize this truth, give our college its proper place on the map of great schools and help to make others realize that the quality of our work has placed us abreast with the greatest colleges in scholarship and social service, Dr. Arnesen concluded.

When asked if the press would be of specific value to the English department, Dr. Arnesen replied that:

"It will facilitate departmental publications of poetry and original writing, literary research, criticism and creative expression of the staff members."

As the Gater Sees It

By ED POOLE

From the analysis of a questionnaire submitted to the enrollment of 93 students in Mr. Frank Ray's Art 4 (Introductory Art) groups, 48 per cent had some art instruction in their elementary school; 80 per cent did not have any art instruction in their high school. Why?

Most people would like to be able to draw and paint pictures—pictures that look (right) to them—if just for recreation.

Skill in drawing and rendering objects, figures, etc., is important. Though the drawing may show taste, cleverness, and originality, it is not sufficient for the production of pictures. Unless the principles of perspective are understood and applied, the foundation draftsmanship of a picture will be poor.

MANY IMPRESSED

Many are impressed with the belief that perspective is the most dry and least interesting of any subject taught along the lines of illustrative art. This is a mistake. After having mastered the rudiments of perspective further study not only becomes interesting but easier with each step in the program.

n a picture which usually consists of a group of objects or figures each object, or figure, must not only be properly drawn and foreshortened, but it must bear the proper relation of apparent size to all the others.

The apparent size of each object, or figure in a drawing depends on the actual position of the object with relation to the observer's eye (Horizon, Eye-level): The size is therefore determined by applying the principles of foreshortening. The application of the principles of foreshortening to the drawing of groups of objects, figures, houses, details of landscapes, etc., is known as perspective.

PERSPECTIVE NEEDED

Some students may think that, because perspective is a more or less exact science, it is out of place in a study of art. Owing to its great importance, artistic work cannot be done properly without it.

Lacking the knowledge of simple perspective is the prime reason why so many students quickly become discouraged in attempting to draw or paint a picture. One may no more be able to make a good picture without some definite knowledge of perspective than to write a story without a smattering of the rudiments of grammar.

If sufficient students write to the editor indicating their desire for more articles and illustrations of definite art problems, Mr. Frank Ray says he will be glad to co-operate.

THANKSGIVING FOR A PROFIT

A little over three hundred years ago a small group of people gathered after the harvest to celebrate their good fortune. In so doing they instituted one of the few American traditions. Since that date our country has reaped many harvests, millions of times more fruitful than the original. With these huge annual harvests the United States has grown to be the wealthiest country on the earth.

Along with this wealth our nation has acquired a strictly capitalistic system, with money as the Almighty. Is it necessary that the few nice little traditions we have bow down to this idol in awed reverence. In other words, tomorrow will we be celebrating our forefathers' giving of thanks of the fact that our local merchant will have a chance to make more money? (Is that why Thanksgiving date was changed?)

FASHION FADS OF WEEK

Hoods have really come to stay, at least for a while anyway. They are becoming popular in sport and evening and are certainly practical for these foggy mornings. Another new fad that is still in the trial stage are knee length sox. It will take a little time for these to be fully accepted, but when they are it will be grand to be warm at football games and the like.

Styles of today are going back even further than last season's crinolines. Now they have gone Grecian, hanging from the shoulder girdled at the waist and made form fitting with the sheer clinging texture of the material.

Speaking of fashions Bib 'n Tucker is giving its semesterly fashion revue two weeks from tomorrow, December 7. The girls have obtained the exclusive Be-Alta studio for a sponsor and the members will model Miss Alta's creations.

GIRL OF THE WEEK

BOBBE SANDEEN

In Spring '37 a high freshman became president of the P.E. Club and retained the office for the next two semesters. During that year and a half, Roberta Sandeen, for those who wish to be proper and "Bobbe" to her friends, was an active member in Kappa Delta Pi and the Women's Athletic Association. Then in Spring '39 she became president of W.A.A. and held that office in the election at the end of last term. If there is anyone girl in the Senior clas from that department that deserves our own little pulitzer prize it is Bobbe, the gal that always gets her stories in on time for the sports editors . . . Good luck Bobe.

'40 Franciscan Contracts Let

Work began in earnest on the 1940 Franciscan early this week, when the Board of Publications awarded contracts covering printing, engraving, and covers for the annual.

Staff artist Stephen R. Mills is now working on the division page designs, the colored border that will go around the pages and on a distinctive design for the covers. "We have just received an offer from the printer regarding these covers," according to Mills, "for a design that will be a knockout. A combination of the best that the Stanford Quad ever put out, and some of the best linen material available will add to the beauty of our cover."

The artist's primary task now is to tie in the theme with his art work. Designed to depict the fact that "The Golden Tide Is Rising," the book will depend to a great extent on its excellent art work and photography for its high chances of receiving All-American honors this year, according to Albert K. Anderson, printer and covermaker.

Photography on the annual is going at full pace. To date all honorary fraternity pictures have been taken, while several hundred graduating seniors have been shot by Walt Cameron, staff photographer. The editors, who have just completed the job of sorting portraits and returning the best quality to Cameron for retouching, will take time off Saturday to shoot a few things at the Junior Prom with their trusty little cameras.

"Many persons and people who have been portraited by our photographer have been asking me questions about ordering pictures, and I herewith put them at their ease," reports Zoroaster Ernie Miguel. "They can now see me and order pictures, or they can call our photographer, Walt Cameron of the Retlaw Camera Shoppe, 24th and Vicksburg (open evenings), MIssion 8737. I am sure he will oblige!"

Here's A 'New' For You To View

Ring the whistles! Blow the bells! Shout it to the heavens vast! Here's a bulletin that tells: Zimmy's desk has come at last!

Zimmy (Simonson to you) heard days, weeks, nay — months ago that his desk "today is due"—well, time marches on, you know.

Since then wars have gone—and come: nations have been born, and died: ditto emperor and bum; ditto conquerors in their pride.

It's a five-star-final "new," (singular of "news," you dope): from the wilds of Timbuctoo, round the cape that's called Good Hope, over broad Tyrrhenian foam, through mountain passes of Tsinling, to its S. F. S. C. home comes this rare and costly thing.

Brand new desk, you've travelled far from your source on Zulu creek, brought by rowboat and hand car—brother, you're a real antique.

Stop the presses, kill page one, write me a six-column mast! Folks, millenium has begun: Zimmy's desk is here at last!

AFTER BEATS

By SHERMAN GRANT

Several years ago, Fredric March and his lovely wife, Florence Eldridge, did a legitimate play on the boards of Broadway. The first-night audience was enthusiastic and the Marches were compelled to take curtain call after curtain call. The critics next morning, were governed by a different train of thought. They thought that the play didn't merit one single good word and they were bombastically unanimous in their condemnation.

A few days later, personal friends of Mr. and Mrs. Fredric March received a black-bordered card. On it were two trapeze performers. One had missed catching the other and he was sailing through space to certain doom. The caption on the bottom of the picture read: "Oops! Sorry!"

Several nights ago, a Chicken's Ball was held here at State. It was a grand affair, with a generous purpose motivating it. One thing, though, stood out in horrible relief—that was the performance of the so-called master - of - ceremonies. The difference between this emcee and the Fredric Marches is that he knew he was dying, theatrically speaking. To all who suffered during his interludes, expecting something so much better, we also say, "Oops! Sorry!"

One who deserves a genuine word of praise is Dick Bailey. His services as a pianist at the Chicken's Ball saved more than one act. Dick made a terrific sacrifice to be present at the ball. In our small way, we convey the thanks of many of the performers.

That versatile comedian who appeared several times during the show as a Swede, as Hitler, and as Mussolini, will be remembered by those who viewed the recent "Showboat," as Bob ("Harpo") Wenburg. His facile control of several languages as well as his great imitative ability have found him a unique place in show business. We've worked with him for a long time, but never fail to get a hearty kick out of his antics.

The messenger with the voice like a steamboat whistle is Bill Jackman, another "Showboat" relic. Jackman is one of the new crop of screwballs who have taken their rightful places in the Music Department, and is every bit as crazy as his peculiar face would have us believe. In his more serious moments, the lad menostrates a fine tenor voice.

In a very near issue we expect to have a rather large hunk of news regarding Nelson Bonar, president of the Music Federation. This grand guy, who hasn't made the spectacular kind of news simply because he moves swiftly and efficiently, has the distinction of heading the administration responsible for the most successful term in the Federation.

NEW VARSITY CAGERS WIN 53-45 OVER STROM FIVE AS FARMER REVIEWS 'EM

Fanfelle Gets Eleven Points For High Scoring Honors; Jayvees Drop Preliminary Game To St. Ignatius By 23-48 Score

Women's Gym, Nov. 21.—Dan Farmer beamed with pleasure as he watched his twelve new varsity cagers defeat Strom Clothiers 53-45 last night. None of the regulars suited up for this game, for it was to give the new players a chance to preview their skills, and show them, they did! Petit forward Fanfelle scored eleven points to lead State in high scoring, with Marshall Hansen and Bob Ryall collecting ten points each. Strom took the lead for a short time during the second half, but the varsity rookies quickly regained their stride. The halftime score was 28-25.

REGULARS SIT OUT

In spite of last week's headlines, veteran casabans did not play against the sturdy Stroms last night. The game was set especially for the new men to sell their wares. Sell them they did. Several of the fifteen men who saw action will be after first string spots, and others will make a strong benchful of reserve power.

Above mentioned veteran cagers are at it in true Farmer style, "hammer and tongs". In fact, their tongs are hanging out after a day's workout pointing toward that first game December first with the Y.M.C.A. aggregation.

FARMER OPTIMISTIC

Coach Dan Farmer will not yet venture a prediction concerning the future impression of his teamsters on the basketball world, but he doesn't hide his optimism about their potentialities. Fans may well plan now to keep their basketball nights open. This is a team you will want to follow!

Hal Garden's jayvee quintet dropped their first tilt of the season, with Saint Ignatius winning 48-23 in the preliminary.

Anyone entered may practice at the Y pool on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, from 11:30 to 12:45 p.m.

Thirty Cagers Bid for Berths On Forty-fives

Meet Mission Bears After One More Week Of Scrimmage Work

Coach Richard Boyle, Forty-five mentor, is having his worries with thirty lightweight cagers trying to squeeze into fifteen game uniforms.

Last season's two forwards, Bob Wolf and Don McRitchie, will not play this season, because of heavy studies.

The returning veterans are forming a nucleus, but one that is threatened by new faces. Outstanding in scrimmage this week was Shoy Wong, who handled one of the forward positions with ease and finesse.

The Forty-fives have one more week of practice before their first encounter with Mission High school on Friday night, December 1. This tilt is the preliminary to the varsty-Y.M.C.A. game.

With fifteen games scheduled, including all the high schools, the Forty-fives will top off their season with a trip to Ukiah, Calif. to tangle with the Ukiah quintet.

The lightweight team will play all the preliminary games to the varsity home games, both in the women's gym and at Kezar stadium.

Nyman Bows To Stone In Finals

Ru Stone defeated Melvin Nyman to win the men's singles badminton championship last Monday in the women's gym. Stone won the first match easily 15 to 9, but was forced into extra innings when Nyman tied him at 13 to 13. The last match was short with Stone winning 5 to 3 to cinch the championship.

Four Lettermen Return to Help Swimming Squad

Harden Must Build New Aquatic Team Around His Veterans

With only four of last year's block winners scheduled to be on the swimming team this coming season, new men hold the key as to whether the aquatic squad will repeat the success it enjoyed last week.

Johnny Haake, who was undefeated in competition last season in the backstroke event, is returning to handle his favorite event again. He also will be available for the relay team and maybe one of the sprint swims.

Breaststroke problems are largely solved with the presence of Bert Singer, who fared no worse than second in any breaststroke race, last season. Besides his special event, he is also practicing the free-style sprints.

Hal Keller in the distant events, and Billy Hammond for diving are the other two lettermen around which Coach Hal Harden must build his team.

At present the team is working out on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday at the Central Y.M.C.A. pool from 11:30 to 12:30 A.M. Men interested in trying out for the team should either put in an appearance at practice or contact Coach Harden.

EGYPTIANS DEFEAT TIDE

Defeat at the hands of the Cal Aggies, 8-1, Saturday, has not affected the morale of the Tide. Only thirteen men made the trip to Davis. Holding the farmers 1-1 until the third quarter the Staters weakened because of lack of substitutes and the Aggies piled up goal after goal.

Nine of the players on the Aggies team hail from Egypt where soccer is the major sport. Two represented Egypt in the Olympic games.

Many soccer experts rate the Cal Aggies as having the best soccer squad on the coast. A week from Saturday another game between State and the Aggies is scheduled.

Jo Biggi Whips Norma Taloff In Badminton Finals

Winning in straight sets 11-7 and 11-4 Jo Biggi annexed the women's singles crown from Norma Taloff in the badminton finals last Friday.

Coupling a hard driving forehand with a brilliant strategical game, Biggi was never headed. Taloff, appearing a trifle nervous fell prey time after time to the carefully planned course of action of the new champion and never offered a serious threat.

An odds-on tournament favorite Biggi justified the support given her, and breezed through all opposition to cop the title handily.

Miss Marjorie McLaren of the Women's physical education department officiated.

By JOHN PICHOTTO

Intramural basketball started with a bang last Thursday and Friday as four of six scheduled games were played. In the first game played in the Women's gym last Thursday, the Muscle-Men, captained by Frank Lumpe and managed by Al Barros, took the nod from Uncle Dan's Boilermakers by the score of 17-6.

Marsh Hansen starred for the winners with eight points, followed by Ed Hagerty with five, while Lumpe, Ken Kim, Barros, and Dave Stone put up a strong defense against the Boilermakers. Captain Graig Gaffney, of the losers, tallied four points with Leo Coulson, Krause, Calderwood, and Lewis also battling for the Boilermakers.

In the second of Thursday's double-header, the recent winners of the football trophy, Sigma Pi Sigma, waltzed through a victory over the Newman Gold squad by a score of 25-5.

Manager Don MacRitchie led the scoring for the winners with a total of fourteen points, while John Finn and Jack McGann each tallied four. Alex Edelstein and Bob Cumming completed the scoring.

Bob Wolf, Bob Buckley, Tony Bacich, and Bob Anderson, showed a stiff defense by holding the Newman Golds to five points. Bill Odone and Jack McNanry tallied for the losers.

In Thursday's game played in the Salvation Army, a fighting squad of Outcasts came from behind to nip the Ramblers by the slim score of 18-19.

The Ramblers, led by Stan Lefcourt, took an early lead on shots by Carl Sanborn, Ed Borup, Dick Schwab, Mel Careu, and Stan Winter. In the final two minutes of play, they led the Outcasts, 17-10, and then the Outcasts played inspired ball.

With Captain Carl Gustafson taking the lead, they took long shots from every angle of the court and Bob Lee, Gene Bryan, Phil Stolz, Bill Harriman, and Pete Perry connected for the winning tallies.

The French Club defaulted its first game to Ryall's All-Stars while the Palookas won a victory by forfeit from Farmer's Finks.

Friday's game was the first appearance of the All-Chinese squad, the Cathayans, and they looked smooth and fast taking a victory over the Green Bay Packers by the score of 13-4.

With Captain John Wong and Manager Tommy Kim leading the way, the Cathayans held the lead throughout and their defense of Walt Lee, Ed Tom, Dick Chin, Ken SooHoo, Low Chuck, George Yee, Harry Chan, Abraham Tom, and Richard Foo had an easy time holding the Packer squad of Vasquez, Cantrell, Maciel, Amark, Zamlock, Wood.

"To Miss Casebolt and Murray Hill" in chocolate was the highlight of a dinner held last Thursday at 5:30 in the activities room for the cast of "Murray Hill," a play by Leslie Howard recently produced by the dramatics department.

The candy motto was decoration on a cake baked by Mrs. Thelma Fitzpatrick as a surprise for the cast and its director. The rest of the dinner consisted of spaghetti and all of the "fixings," also prepared by Mrs. Fitzpatrick.

Those present were: Wallace Twitchell, Dorothy Fitzpatrick, Louise Winter, Jeanne Kerwin, Hallock Wagner, Martha Wilson, George Archambeault, Herbert Smith, Miss Jesse Casebolt and Mrs. Thelma Fitzpatrick.

'The Valiant' Nearly Beaten By Holiday Job

With production but three weeks away, rehearsals for "The Valiant" were disrupted recently when Bob Sweeney, one of the leading characters, landed a job for the Christmas holidays and was forced to leave the cast.

Because time is short and he is familiar with the play, Wallace Twichell, student director, will take over the part himself. The role is that of James Dyke, prisoner.

Others in the cast of the one-act prison drama by Hall and Middlemass include George Archambeault, Warden Holt; Hallock Wagner, Father Daly; and Jeanne Kerwin, Josephine Paris.
